 "The events leading up to the commitment of Thaw are in brief as follows: On June 25, 1906, Thaw shot and killed one Stanford White. He was indicted for this act in the county of New York, and the indictment charged him with murder in the first degree. On January 25, 1907, he was brought to trial on this indictment, and during the progress of this trial, on application of the District Attorney under section 524 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, a commission was duly appointed to ascertain whether at the time of the trial Thaw was in a state of insanity, or if he was capable of understanding his own condition and the nature of the charge against him and conducting his defense in a rational manner. The commission afterward returned to the court that it was their opinion that at the time of their examination the said Thaw was sane and was capable of understanding his own condition and the nature of the charge against him and conducting his defense in a rational manner. This conclusion was reached in accordance with purpose of the statute. The trial proceeded and resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

 "On the sixth day of January, 1908, said Thaw was again tried on said indictment and acquitted on the ground of insanity.  "The proof and evidence on the part of the respective parties having been presented and the matter has been submitted to the jury at the time of the trial for homicide as a defense, pleaded insanity and presented proof to show his insanity at the time of the killing of White and by the proof offered on his behalf, the jury was insane and acquitted him upon that ground.
 "I am satisfied from the evidence adduced before me that the mental condition of Harry K. Thaw has not changed and I find that he is now insane, and that it is so manifest to make it unsafe for him to be at liberty."

 Three Persons Killed and Five Fatally Injured in Trolley Accident Near Philadelphia.
 (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)
 PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—Three persons were instantly killed, and at least five others were badly injured that there is no hope of recovery, and forty-five were seriously hurt in a collision between trolley cars on Germantown avenue near Chestnut Hill, a suburb in the northern section of the city, late last night.
 The only body thus far identified is that of Mrs. George W. Wagner, aged 65 years, of Cornwell, Pa. The bodies of an unidentified woman about 40 years of age, and an unidentified man of about 45 years, are in a hospital.
 Forty-five persons were taken to the Chestnut Hill and Germantown hospitals, each of which is several miles from the scene of the accident, and many were taken away in automobiles by the wealthy residents of the exclusive Chestnut Hill district. They were treated by private physicians, and in consequence absolute details as to the injured cannot be obtained.
 Among those who were seriously injured were:
 George Wagner, whose wife was killed.
 Alexander McKay, 45, who has a wooden leg. The leg was jammed up into his body and he cannot live.
 The accident was caused by a north-bound car jumping the track while going down a steep grade not far from Chestnut Hill. The car swung across the south-bound track, and was struck by a car on that track. Both cars were filled with passengers.

Decision Is Against Prisoner.

Supreme Court Justice Holds He Is Not Fit Person to Be at Large.

Freedom Denied Slayer of Stanford White; Must Be Surely Cured.

Validity of Commitment to Matteawan Asylum Also Is Upheld.

 Poughkeepsie (N. Y.) Times. (Exclusive Dispatch.)
 Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morchauer today made a decision in the case of Harry K. Thaw early this morning.
 The court holds that Thaw is still insane and not a fit person to be at large. He should be confined until it is certain that there will be no recurrence of the insanity, in whatever form it may exist.
 The validity of the commitment to Matteawan Insane Asylum by Justice Dooling of New York is upheld, the court stating that safety of the community is more important than the freedom of the individual.
 "After referring to the application of Thaw's attorney, the court says:
 "Thaw's detention is attacked upon the grounds:
 "First—That he is now sane.
 "Second—That the act under the provisions of which he was committed is unconstitutional and that the court is without jurisdiction to issue the order of commitment and such order was null and void.
 "The return to the writ alleges that said Thaw is now insane and that the return, providing for the confinement of said Thaw, is constitutional and valid, and that the court had jurisdiction to make the commitment."
 The events leading up to the commitment of Thaw are in brief as follows: On June 25, 1906, Thaw shot and killed one Stanford White. He was indicted for this act in the county of New York, and the indictment charged him with murder in the first degree. On January 25, 1907, he was brought to trial on this indictment, and during the progress of this trial, on application of the District Attorney under section 524 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, a commission was duly appointed to ascertain whether at the time of the trial Thaw was in a state of insanity, or if he was capable of understanding his own condition and the nature of the charge against him and conducting his defense in a rational manner. The commission afterward returned to the court that it was their opinion that at the time of their examination the said Thaw was sane and was capable of understanding his own condition and the nature of the charge against him and conducting his defense in a rational manner. This conclusion was reached in accordance with purpose of the statute. The trial proceeded and resulted in a disagreement of the jury.
 "IS STILL INSANE."
 "On the sixth day of January, 1908, said Thaw was again tried on said indictment and acquitted on the ground of insanity. Thereupon the learned justice presiding at the trial, upon the evidence, made an order reciting the verdict and that the court deemed the discharge of said Thaw at that time to be dangerous to public safety and directing that said Thaw be detained in safe custody and be sent to the Matteawan State hospital, there to be kept until discharged by due process of law.

New York Man Inoculated With Consumption Kipping Cure May Be Found.

 NEW YORK, May 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) "My published wish has been gratified. I have been inoculated with tuberculosis, and I trust that I may, by the sacrifice of myself in the cause of medical science, do more for suffering humanity than did John D. Rockefeller when he offered $10,000,000 for a certain cure of the great white plague."
 "My case of consumption was invited. I feel sick. I am delirious at times, and have a fever. But I am happy, for, if through my efforts a cure for the disease that took my young wife and baby from me long ago, is discovered I shall die feeling that my life on this earth has not been all in vain."
 So spoke Frank Merritt to your representative. Mr. Merritt had been inoculated with tubercle bacilli, according to his earnest desire, by Dr. C. C. Carroll of No. 2122 Broadway.

MADMAN AT ALTAR

Priest's Throat Cut by Lunatic.

Wealthy Parishioner Stabs Celebrant in Crowded Church.

Victim Pleads for Assault While Lying at Point of Death.

Near Tragedy Shocks People of Country Town in Missouri.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
 ST. LOUIS, May 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Just after leaving the altar of St. Joseph's Church at Salisbury, Mo., this morning, the pastor, the Rev. Father Joseph F. Lubeley, was attacked and stabbed twice by Joseph Schutte, a wealthy parishioner. His wounds may prove fatal.
 Father Lubeley had just finished singing high mass when the parishioner attacked him and after felling him with the second blow, turned his freshly-sharpened knife on Mrs. Barbara Ginter and John Ginter, two of those who rushed to the aid of the priest.
 Mrs. Ginter was cut in the hand while Ginter received two wounds, one in the hand and another in the elbow. Neither Mrs. Ginter nor Ginter was seriously hurt. Father Lubeley was stabbed in the right temple and in the right side of the neck, the knife just missing a jugular vein by a hair's breadth.
 The clergyman was attacked from behind just as he left the altar and was standing in the church door, in full view of about 500 worshippers, one of whom, a woman, was shaking hands with Schutte as he rushed past before any one divined his purpose and it was not until the horrified parishioners rushed forward and grasped him that they learned what was happening.
GRAPPLE WITH ASSAILANT.
 A dozen men grappled with Schutte after he had attacked Mrs. Ginter and Ginter and he was quickly pinioned to the ground. He resisted desperately, shouting and snarling and Pugin streets, St. Louis. He was accompanied by Dr. Baker and Miss Tillie Lubeley, his cousin and housekeeper.
 "I'll be all right unless the knife was in my throat," he said, "I was the best of friends and I never did anything consciously or unconsciously to hurt his enmity. He must have lost his reason."
TELLS OF ATTACK.
 Except for a few moments following the attack, Father Lubeley's mind was clear regarding the near tragedy.
 "He attacked me from behind my back," he said, "and I had no chance to defend myself. He thrust the knife first thrust of the knife grazed my temple. It would have killed me had it struck me direct. The doctors tell me the second blow missed my jugular vein by a narrow margin."
 Schutte, according to members of the St. Joseph's Church, was in the rear of the church during the high mass, although his family occupied the pew in the center of the church. He is said to have glared at Father Lubeley throughout the service and particularly during the sermon, gnashing his teeth in seemingly great rage. Not a word was uttered by the man, it is stated, to indicate that he intended harm to the priest, however, though his peculiar actions have caused comment in the town recently.
 Schutte quarreled with John Logondro, former sergeant-at-arms of the Missouri House of Representatives, a resident of Salisbury, yesterday and threatened him with his knife. He was calmed and the incident was overlooked because of his standing in the community.
 But few of those who attended the high mass at St. Joseph's Church today knew of Schutte's quarrel with Logondro, most of the parishioners being farmers who live in the near-by country and whose duties on the farm at this season of the year keep them at home on week days. Nothing was said by members of Schutte's family, it is stated, that indicated to his friends that he was in a dangerous mood. Schutte has been one of the most liberal supporters of St. Joseph's Church and one of his daughters was an intimate friend of Father Lubeley's cousin, who made her home with him.
 "He was the last man in the world I would expect to attempt my life," said the priest as he referred to his friendship for the assailant. During the ride to St. Louis passengers on the train gathered about the wounded clergyman.

PLEA FOR SCHUTTE.
 Father Lubeley was educated in the parochial schools of St. Louis and in Italy and Austria. He is an accomplished linguist, speaking five languages, and is also favorably known as a musician. He was for five years after his ordination by the late Archbishop Kain, attached to St. Henry's Church in St. Louis and an assistant at St. Louis's Church. From St. Louis, Father Lubeley was transferred to Troy, Mo., where he was pastor of the Catholic church for several years. He went to Salisbury, which is 150 miles west of St. Louis, five years ago. The little town of Salisbury, boasting a population of 2500, is sorrowful

NARCHY IN PERSIA

Assassination Publicly Demanded.

Ruler Accused of Indulging in Orgies in Nation's Crisis.

Paper Threatens to Prove the Charges and Label Suit Withdrawn.

Posts Plundered, Districts Lost, Brigands Holding Towns.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
 BERLIN, May 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The most recent article received here is to the effect that anarchy prevails throughout Persia. As an example of the Shah's helplessness to cope with the situation, a hotel action is cited which has been brought against the Persian newspaper Mowwad, for an article containing the following passage:
 "Khalil and Ardabil, the most important posts on the Russian frontier, have been plundered. Baku and Urumchi are as good as lost frontier districts. The Kermanshah are in open revolt. Hood is howling at Shiraz, Kars and Kaspian. Kila is in possession of Erilanda, Khomani and Kermanshah are suffering from raids of the Turks."
 "The governors are tyrannical, the administration is corrupt and inefficient, the taxes are in arrears, the treasury is empty, the soldiers' wages are unpaid and the army is mutinous. What is the Shah doing in these melancholy circumstances? What are the Shah's occupations? He confends himself with satisfying his own sensual instincts and devotes himself to night-long night-long dallies."
 The newspaper proceeds to give a list of its allegations and concludes by threatening the Shah with a revolution, but withdrew it when the Shah offered to prove the charges in detail. Copies of the paper containing the attack on the Shah are being sold at 11 shillings ($1.75) each, and the walls of Tehran are covered with placards calling upon the people to assassinate the monarch.

INTYRE HE WILL WIN Angeleno's Election Seems Sure.

Delegates Certain Local Pastor's Victory Will Come
in Early Vote.

Eleventh or Twelfth Ballot
Given as Place for His Episcopate.

Scurrilous Attacks on Several Candidates Disgust the Clergymen.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
BALTIMORE (AP) May 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Dr. Robert Mc-Intyre's election as bishop by the General Methodist Episcopal Conference now seems assured and probably will occur on the eleventh or twelfth ballot.

Although the closest secrecy is maintained as to the result of the tenth ballot taken yesterday, it is reported that the vote was generally believed by delegates that when the tapers flared their task tomorrow morning the result will show the election of Dr.
McIntyre, of Chicago, and Dr. Lewis, president of the conference, of St. Louis, as on the fifth ballot the former only needed five votes and the latter fourteen.

It is also reported that Dr. McIntyre's vote will show large gains on this ballot. Should the tenth ballot show the election of Dr. McIntyre, and Lewis there will only be four more places in the episcopate to fill, and according to the delegates there four will be Robert McIntyre, H. C. Smith,
C. W. Smith and E. H. Hughes.

SCURRILOUS ATTACKS.
It developed today that an effort
was also being made in the conference to defeat the candidacy of Dr. Joseph B. Hinesley of Minneapolis, Minn., for one of the episcopates recently created.

Many of the delegates are becoming disgusted and disgusted with some of the methods resorted to in the efforts to work politics in the election, especially when directed from outside the conference. It is possible here that the resentment will show itself in the election of Dr. Hinesley.

The charges against him, which are as to his character, are being brought by Col. Frank M. Joyce, son of the late Bishop Isaac Joyce. There was a column between Bishop Joyce and Dr. Hinesley following the minister's refusal to join the Bishop House Society.

Dr. George E. Eckman of St. Paul's Church, New York, has also felt the effect of outside interference. Charges were made that he had been under the influence of liquor. When Dr. Eckman's friends learned of the charges
they added what the rumor-mongers had failed to say, that Dr. Eckman was on a sick bed and that the liquor
had been administered to him.

ACCUSED AS JILT.
Enemies of Rev. Dr. Quail of Chicago started a story that he had not been faithful to his promise to marry a young lady. This has also turned out to be untrue.

The most pronounced sufferer has been Rev. Dr. Charles L. Goodell of Calvary Church, New York.

The conference will doubtless be peculiarly characterized by the number and character of the attacks that have been made upon candidates.
There for four men have been discredited by reason of the circulation among the delegates of stories, some of them very vague and not all of them told with their proper and just exaggerations.

There are some indications and more hopes—that the election of men for elevation to the episcopate will hereafter go on more rapidly, though none will venture a prediction as to when this portion of the work of the conference will be completed.

A resolution to adjourn sine die a week from tomorrow night leaves but eight working days in which to finish
a vast amount of work.

Rev. Charles L. Stelzel Delivers Special Address to Workmen at Kansas City.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.
KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 24.—Presbyterian evangelists among laborers were the theme of the addresses at a great mass meeting for men at Convention Hall today, delivered by Rev.
Charles L. Stelzel of the Presbyterian
Committee on the Church and Labor,
Gov. Folk of Missouri, and John H.
Lennon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor.

Rev. Stelzel made a personal invitation to every union-labor man in the city. Non-union men were also especially invited, and a magnificent audience greeted the speakers.

This minister, who was himself formerly a union machinist, organized the department of the church and labor and devotes his energies to the effort of bringing the church and the non-union workers of the world closer together.

This department is rapidly becoming one of the big things of the Presbyterian church, and it is a potent agency in enlisting men in the service of the church—a work which is also one of the greatest functions of the Presbyterian Brotherhood.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
DALLAS (Tex.) May 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most violent storm of the year broke over North Texas last night.

It was exceptionally severe at Fort Worth, Dallas, Wichita Falls, Denton
and Abilene.

Andrew Welch, a saloon-keeper of North Fort Worth, whose place was inundated, was drowned in trying to escape. The boy, 15 years old, working for Welch, was also drowned. A fireman was drowned with him. Four men were seen to be swept into Marine Creek in the suburbs of Fort Worth and drowned. Efforts to submerge their families or places of residence have failed.

The property loss at Fort Worth and vicinity exceeds $100,000. The interurban electric line of the Northern Texas Traction Company, between Fort Worth and Dallas, has been abandoned all day and tonight because of the sweeping away of a bridge.

ARKANSAS RIVER HIGH.
TULSA (Okla.) May 24.—As a result of an almost incessant rain of rain in Oklahoma for the past three days, the Arkansas river has risen thirteen feet, and it will steadily rise further. At 6 o'clock tonight the river has reached the highest point in four years.

Parts of West Tulsa and Jenks, fourteen miles south of here, are inundated, and the inhabitants are seeking refuge on the roofs.

The water has nearly reached the surface of the wagon bridge across the Arkansas river at this place, and all travel has been stopped. The river is full of debris, including wrecks of bridges from tributary streams, which have been washed out by the floods.

It is impossible to estimate the damage done in the outlying country, as telephone and telegraphic service is crippled. It is known, however, that in the lowlands crops are being ruined,
and much live stock has been destroyed. A considerable area has been devastated.

So far no loss of life has been reported.

GUTHRIE INUNDATED.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.
GUTHRIE (Okla.) May 24.—All West Guthrie is inundated, from seven to ten feet of water rushing through the streets.

All train service in and out of the city is at a standstill because of miles of water. The water is so deep that no bridges are passable. No attempt is being made to operate trains east of Guthrie, while the water is less than 10 feet deep. Guthrie is isolated at Seward, between here and Oklahoma City.

OKLAHOMA ROADS BLOCKED.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.
MUSKOGEE (Okla.) May 24.—Not a road in Oklahoma is in operation tonight as a result of the heavy rains and floods that have occurred in various parts of the State during the past three days.

The last road to suspend operations
was the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, which was forced to suspend operations today when the bridge on the main line at Eufaula went down. To add to the disaster, the main supplying natural gas to the Indian territory part of the State was carried away with the supply of gas from Muskogee and several other cities has been entirely cut off.

The officials of the gas company say it will be a week before regular supply can be made. The gas supply can only be carried by rail, and the railroad is suspended in a measure. Elevators have been forced to stop running, and hotels and restaurants have practically been put out of business.

During the past ten hours, there has been a rainfall of twenty inches in this section of the State. The previous fall during the past three days was ten feet. The water is now contributing to the damage done.

The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific suspended operations Saturday when a mile of the line was washed away. The St. Louis & San Francisco did likewise early today, and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and the Missouri, Kansas & Gulf suspended train service.
The last train over the Missouri, Kansas & Texas road was No. 1,
north-bound, which crossed the Canadian River at 10 o'clock this morning.

The St. Louis & San Francisco, which crossed the Canadian River at 10 o'clock this morning, was the last train to cross the river. The Canadian River rose ten feet during the past three hours, and the Arkansas River eight feet. The entire country is under water.

Late this afternoon a message was received at the Midland Valley Railroad office here from Jenks, Okla.,
saying the town was under water,
and that help was needed. The railroad is powerless to send aid, as much water has been washed away. Jenks is fifty-three miles north of Muskogee, and is located in extremely low country. It is feared that a number of persons have perished.

In the Elkhorn and Pecos mountains near the West Virginia, 2000 miners who have been idle owing to slack
business will resume work today.

THOUSANDS WEEKLY FOR TAFT.
Republican Voters Indicate Preference
on Bips Taft over Secretary's
New York Headquarters.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
NEW YORK, May 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Taft organization at
No. 170 Broadway, which has been sending out Republican voters' bills on which to indicate their choice for President, announced today that more than 7000 slips are being received weekly from voters who are for Secretary Taft.

Over 4000 slips have been sent out to date. The organization is planning to make a formidable show at Chicago
of Taft's strength in this State.

WORTH SEEING.
The story was in two parts. One version had it that the President was coming here to see the Taft organiza-

Government to Try Interesting Experiment Next Week in Chesapeake Bay to Determine Effect of Heavy Guns and Torpedoes on Modern Warship.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
NEW YORK, May 24.—[Exclusive
Dispatch.] There will be the closest imitation of a real naval battle ever known in the waters of Chesapeake Bay some day next week, when the members of the Taft organization will be attacked by her sister monitor, the Arkansas, and subjected to a vigorous bombardment by heavy guns and Whitehead torpedoes.

As a result of this experiment the Navy department expects to learn the effect of a bombardment upon the interior fittings and other portions of the ship's structure. These are the same as in the case of the battleships, and the information will be doubly valuable. Whatever damage is done will be repaired, and will in no way impair the future usefulness.

A recent feature of the plan is that the volunteers for service on the Arkansas will be the Taft organization. The Taft organization will be the Arkansas. The Taft organization will be Among those who will leave on Monday to witness the experiment are George Dewey, president of the general board; Rear-Admiral John E. Pillsbury, chief of the Bureau of Navigation; Rear-Admiral George A. Baggot, chief constructor; Rear-Admiral William S.

Chambers, and Commander William S.
Chambers.

The Florida will be stationary over shoal water, so that it can be easily seen. The Arkansas will be the target for the small guns. Two 12-inch guns will be used to attack the Arkansas. The Taft organization will be

WORKING FOR ADJOURNMENT.

Both Senate and House Doing
Their Utmost.

Are Pushing Completion of Work in Hand.

No New Legislation Will Be Considered.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.
WASHINGTON, May 24.—Both the Senate and the House will devote their efforts to shaping their affairs as soon as possible to an adjournment at the earliest time possible during the present week, and as a consequence whatever is done will be in the nature of completing the work already begun.

Most of the time, if not all of it, will be given to the consideration of the reports of conference committees dealing with points of difference between the two houses in measures which have been passed by both.

In any event, there will be confined largely to appropriation bills. All the supply measures have received attention from both houses, but there are still points of difference in connection with some of them, and a special effort will be made to compromise.

As soon as the differences are adjusted, the session will come to an end. The general deficiency bill will be held back until the last moment in order to use it as a vehicle for the appropriation of money to carry into effect the provisions of the Omnibus Package Bill.

Final adjournment will probably take place Thursday.

crease freight rates 10 per cent., the railroads in the "official classification"
territory have agreed to add considerably to the burdens of the shippers of package freight.

At the same meeting at which the rate increases were decided upon, the representatives of more than 400 railroads agreed that after July 1 they would not receive for shipment any packages in less than covered and labeled boxes, and that they would not be marked plainly with the name

MEMORIAL SERVICES LARGELY ATTENDED.

Members of Grand Army, Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans in Special Observance of the Nation's Holy Day at Churches.

MEMORIAL Sunday was observed at numerous Los Angeles churches yesterday with services particularly appropriate to the occasion, and there was a general outpouring of the veterans who, nearly half a century ago, gave their lives in their country in the trying times of civil conflict. In addition to the old soldiers, the services were participated in by members of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans and other patriotic bodies. The public paid honor to the veterans by attending the various churches in large numbers.

At the First Baptist Church Stanton Post, G.A.R., the Woman's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans, and the Los Angeles Drum Corps were in attendance. The pastor, Rev. J. Q. A. Henry, spoke on "The Hand of God in American History." Grand Army, Confederate and Spanish War Veterans were in attendance at Christ Episcopal Church, where Rev. Baker P. Lee preached on "American History." Stanton Post, G.A.R., attended services at Boy's Heights Methodist Church, where Rev. Alfred Arnold preached. Stanton Post, G.A.R., and Woman's Relief Corps attended services at Abney Methodist Church, where Rev. Thomas H. Bell, D.D., of Buffalo, N. Y., preached. A Civil War veteran, preaching the memorial sermon, Judge Curtis D. Wilbur spoke in the morning at Pico Heights Presbyterian Church on "Blood-bought Liberty," his audience including many veterans. There were similar services at other churches.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

STANTON POST AND OTHERS.

Patrolmen was the keynote of the services at the First Baptist Church yesterday morning. The white-haired veterans of Stanton Post, G.A.R., the Woman's Relief Corps, their sons and the sons of their comrades of 41 to 45, members of Rosecrans Camp, Sons of Veterans and the Los Angeles Drum Corps, were on hand in uniform and with their medals for the observation of Memorial Day.

"The Hand of God in American History" was the title of the address of the pastor, Rev. J. Q. A. Henry, D.D., whose text was "God hath not dealt so with any nation." Psalm 137, 25.

On all sides were the evidences of patriotism. Above the altar the organ was draped with a large American flag. Throughout the sacred edifice were the national colors, on columns around the galleries and wherever they could be obtained. As the visitors entered, ten young ladies dressed in white, one of the altar and held small flags touching in the form of an arch for them to pass under. Four young flower girls in white muslin dresses and strewed the path with white roses.

The organ prelude by E. D. Wykes, of organist, composed and given by the army church band call, given by Conrad D. C. Thomas. The grand strains of "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" rose from the vast audience, old and young alike joining in the swelling chorus.

A male quartet sang "Blest Be the Ground" and "Proud Stand, My Native Land." In part Dr. Henry said:

"Memorial days represent the condensed histories and biographies of nations and individuals. Decoration Day finds its explanation in the sufferings and sacrifices of the Civil War. It commemorates the death of soldiers of liberty. Nothing in the life of nations is accidental, but wholly providential. God's plan for nations as for individuals, comprehends all things. History is his story. No intelligent student of the past can ignore the power of God in the critical periods of human history. In the creation, the exodus, the captivity, the call of Abraham and Moses, the birth of Christ, the death of the cross, the conversion of Paul, the revival of letters, the reformation of the sixteenth century, the American Revolution, the abolition of slavery, the birth of modern missions, the reformation of the nineteenth century, the world, and in the discovery and development of America, the devout student will easily trace the hand of that Divinity which shapes our code, though how he would.

"The hand of Providence is manifest in the discovery of America. The finding of a new continent at that particular juncture of human affairs when Columbus reached America's shores were manifestly providential. It was the beginning of modern history. It gave a new world to Spain, a new world to France, a new world to the discovery of this country, began a new era in human affairs. The world was ripe for such an event. In the 'Timing of Providence' it is marvelous to note how the renaissance of the new birth of the intellect, the invention of printing press, paper making, the discovery of the mariner's compass, and the struggle for human liberty as represented by Wycliffe, Huss, Jerome of Prague and Savonarola created a crisis, which nothing but a new era of the world could meet and satisfy.

"The hand of God is also manifest in the character of the American colonies. The first settlers were prompted to brave the Atlantic, to seek a new world in order that they might enjoy religious liberty. It is interesting to note how that the first discoveries made by Romanists were wrested from them by piece meal and transferred to the Protestants. The story of the settlement of New England is full of mystery apart from the fact of an overruling Providence. In 1605 the French explored and claimed this part of the continent. Their settlement was necessary by the savages and the next year two great windstorms and one shipwreck attended their progress. The French called from Nova Scotia to destroy the Protestants; a terrific storm arose, the French fleet was wrecked, the Duke and the principal personal committed suicide, while the remainder of the fleet returned never to try again.

"Every effort to establish ecclesiastical domination, political despotism, class distinction, were hindered by Providence and failed. God sowed this virgin soil with the finest of wheat. For three centuries he has been sowing it for this particular purpose. The Pilgrims, Puritans, Huguenots and Cavaliers were the best to be found in the best nation of the world. Note the distinction between the settlement of Massachusetts and Virginia on the one hand, with Mexico and French Canada on the other. Plymouth Rock was the stepping stone to New England. Its great monument is crowned with the heroic figure of Paul, while the bas-reliefs represent morality, law, education and freedom. These are the distinguishing features of New England colonial life. These early Protestants laid the foundations of our religious liberty. Had not God intervened in their preservation how radically different would have been the genius and history of our institutions. "Another token of God's presence in American history is found in the great charters of liberty which every true patriot is justly proud. The Pilgrim compact, which began with that famous declaration, 'In the name of God amen,' the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, the Emancipation Proclamation, constitute the most remarkable state papers of the world. The revolution of 1776 made us an independent people; the adoption of the Constitution made us a united people; the Emancipation Proclamation made us a free people. They were the steps to secure the freedom of Cuba, emphasized our supreme love of human liberty.

"No one can study our chief institutions without being impressed that God had much to do with their birth and development. They are the product of our people, their purposes, their passions, their hopes, their fears, their institutions were cast in the mold of Puritanism. They embody the fundamental principles of democracy and the Christian religion, the ballot-box as the ark of our political covenant. Popular government, equality before the law, and education through our public school system, intelligent and manhood suffrage, are all born of the free church. In a free state, the early settlers of our country came to establish a church without a bishop, and a state without a king. They gave to the American people the American home, and American liberty.

"Our great wars likewise illustrate the presence of God in the history of our republic. By the War of the Revolution we secured our independence by the great Civil conflict we preserved the integrity of the Union and secured the freedom of the slave. That war settled once for all that this was one country, with one law, one flag, and one privilege for our whole citizenship. Our war with Spain was born of a human concern for the liberty of a weak and oppressed people over which Spain had tyrannized for 400 years. It was the most unselfish war that the world has ever witnessed. Incidentally it greatly extended our national domain, greatly extended our territory to the first place in the councils of the world. In our national history the first war was won for our preservation, the second for national integrity and civil liberty, while the third was entered upon out of sheer and unselfish love for a weak and helpless people.

"But perhaps the most striking illustration of the providence of God in the history of our nation is found in the marvelous manner raised up to execute the divine purpose and to meet the emergencies in our national life. One has but to recall the names and deeds of Bradford, Cotton, and Adams, Jefferson, Washington, Hamilton, Patrick Henry, John Jay, George Washington, Wendell Phillips, Daniel Webster, Grant and Lincoln, Sherman and Thomas, Garfield and McKinley, Harrison and Hayes, Devere and Roosevelt, not to speak of multitudes of others, and the conviction that they were raised up to sign and seal significant service and to make noble and marked sacrifices in the interest of religious liberty, becomes overwhelming. In every national crisis God has given to us a galaxy of such notable men who have proven themselves equal to the situation they were called to face. Under His moulding hand men grew big and were able to do great things for God and man.

"In view of these manifestations of divine power in our behalf we ought to be a most grateful people. We ought to appreciate the inheritance unto which we are born. Our responsibility to transmit, unmarred and greatly enriched, to those who come after us, is unspeakably great. We ought to deplore our national sins, and humble ourselves before the great God, in the face of such blessings. We have willfully disregarded God, and neglected to give Him the praise due His holy name. And last of all we should face the future with calm confidence, and with an unflinching determination to cooperate with God in the maintenance of the American spirit, in devotion to the flag, in loyalty in the enforcement of our great debt to the 'grizzled warriors' who risked their lives in defense of liberty. The presence of these veterans reminds us of the terrible struggle and the sacrifice of American freedom. Thank God the antagonisms of that bloody conflict are being healed by time's milder touch and the nation will yet draw from this war in common devotion to this dear flag and that dear cross, whose precious blood has crimsoned every inch of the North and South will clasp each a brother patriot's hand, and joyfully exclaim, 'Love and Live for the Blue and Gray.' 'Under the American Flag.' 'To close the service Comrade C. O. Thomas gave the bugle taps and the congregation filed out.

ON BOYLE HEIGHTS.

BATTLE-LOGAN POST.

Rev. Alfred Arnold, pastor of Battle-Logan Post and the Woman's Relief Corps yesterday morning, in the Boyle Heights Methodist Church. The auditorium was crowded and the adjoining Sunday-school room well filled.

The honored guests almost filled the center section. They marched into the building with flying flags and ribbons, making a very impressive spectacle. Commander A. J. Wilson and Rev. Mr. Bunker participated in the service. Over the pulpit was a large flag, and in the background was a picture of a battleship. An augmented choir accompanied by the church's orchestra rendered the "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust." "Under the American Flag," and the national hymn.

Rev. Mr. Arnold took for his text, Hebrews ix, 22: "Without the shedding of blood there is no remission." In the course of the sermon, he said: "Without the shedding of blood there is nothing but redemption, no advance, no progress, no life. The Hebrews uses this great principle to illustrate the principle of the death of Jesus Christ, and that God used that way because the principle of sacrifice is a redemption for the whole universe. This great truth is abundantly shown in our national life. The principle of sacrifice is a redemption for the whole universe. The strong make a place for the weak. This gives our life its nobility. The same thing is effective in our home life. Many a home has been redeemed from a spirit of utter worth-lessness to a noble spirit by death.

"This principle touches the priceless things of our common life. For the precious possession of civil liberty the price of blood was paid. Many noble men died that we might have it. The principle of sacrifice has the same place in the larger life of nations as in private life. At the peril of their lives, the heroes of England, France, Spain, Italy, and the United States, have sacrificed their lives for the freedom of their country. The great principle of sacrifice brought itself into the civil life of England through her hundred years of civil war. She worked out her freedom."

Dr. Inwood stated that of the 600 persons who had given their lives in the exploration of Africa, over 500 had done so in the spirit of sacrifice. He gave a stirring recital of Livingstone's remarkable devotion to his task.

Applying the thought to America, the preacher continued: "It was through blood that we have come to where we are now. Precious blood, uncounted men were poured out in the war of the 60's that we might be redeemed from a great wrong. Slavery was the great evil, and it was for the abolition of that the nation spent its best energy. As far as I know, it is an unparalleled thing in history for a great nation to exhaust itself for a great principle. We have a remarkable ward until we stand today prominent among the countries of the world; prominent for the manifestation of justice. It was that struggle that imbedded justice in our life. 'You veterans wrought out that great principle, you made certain our splendid land. You put the nation on her basis of justice; you made her invulnerable.'"

"The issue before the country today is the issue of freedom. In the 60's it was the question as to whether we should have really a government of the people. We were then in the presence of a lawless power that, unless checked, would mean ruin to the national life. In the presence of a lawless power that spelled death unless met and mastered. You men faced the problem and solved it."

"The Gettysburg of a nation are a guarantee of its safety. Any country that could make great a sacrifice is practically safe from internal and external foes."

"That flag has never touched the ground before a foreign foe, and it never shall as long as the spirit that you veterans is emulated by posterity. It must win over the black flag of the saloon, over the red flag of anarchy, over the yellow flag of corporate greed."

Dr. Inwood urged his congregation to observe the sacredness of Memorial Day and refrain from regarding it as a time for mere recreation. He termed it the one holy day in the annual affairs of the nation's life.

AT CHRIST CHURCH.

PATRIOTIC OBSERVANCE.

The morning services at Christ Episcopal Church yesterday were given over to memorial exercises, attended by members of Roosevelt Camp No. 1, United Spanish War Veterans; Roosevelt Auxiliary, and Daughters of the Confederacy, who attended in a body. American flags draped the chancel railing and pulpit, and soft tones and dotted greenery in simple arrangement converted the entire chancel into a veritable bower.

As a special anthem the quartette rendered the "Jubilate Deo," in E flat by Nevill, and the choir also gave an impressive selection, "Behold, the Days Come," by Woodward. The devotions were spirited and helpful and as Rev. Baker P. Lee opened the service with a hymn, the large assemblage, that had come to hear the memories of fallen leaders once more reinforced, sang in a grand voice, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." The pastor based his remarks on the text, "What Mean Ye By These Flowers?" from Joshua. He said, in part:

"We are gathered here today to scatter palm branches and fragrant flowers in memory of those who have gone before and who died for us. We are inspired to even greater sacrifices by magnificent principles of patriotism that we have inherited. In every inspired note to bloody conflicts on the fields of carnage but to grapple with the great moral issues involved in the everyday duties around us, to resist corrupting influences, to fight off menaces of individual habits and to keep the ideal of honor in politics, commerce and private life, to become the controlling caption of American citizenship."

"Let us gather the cherished deeds of fallen heroes to spur us on in the struggle against the forces of evil. Let us stand in new faces, moral conflicts as truly battles as the memorable Gettysburg. When our forefathers gave and receive bribes, when election judges return false reports, when business men violate the laws of fair play, when we are urged and persuaded that moral victories are yet to be decided by force and I try to be held responsible for the uprightness of honesty in every walk of life."

"A bulwark against the forces of evil is the Bible. Don't get too profound or too intellectual to receive its happy message. Stand by the Bible on Sabbath Day, and avoid making Sunday an occasion for gambling, racing and dissipated festivities. For we trust in the redeeming blood of Cavalry. Conquer the passions of thought by drowning them in the Savior's blood. Let us therefore stand firm in Lincoln and Jackson and Lee to fight and destroy the shackles of drink, to every system of greed, and set loose the sublime spirit over all the earth."

PICO CONGREGATIONAL.

JUDGE WILBUR THE SPEAKER.

Judge Curtis D. Wilbur gave an inspiring address on "Blood-bought Liberty" at the memorial exercises in Pico Heights Congregational Church last evening. The programme was unusually patriotic, both in music and speaking, and the decorations consisted entirely of the national emblem.

The Sunday-school band furnished a number of national anthems. Miss Edith Rogers sang "The Star Spangled Banner," and at the conclusion of the address T. L. Thomas, a veteran of the Civil War, sounded "Taps" in the true army tradition. The speaker was affected by this single feature.

Judge Wilbur portrayed the unspeakable price paid by our fathers for liberty and individual liberties. He dealt briefly on the course of liberty, traced its birth in King James's reign, its further development through the struggles in the French Revolution, the Russian and French revolutions, and still further in our own Revolution to enforce originally the right to representation, the right of people to govern themselves. The right to remain at peace with other nations was purchased in the war with France. The War of 1812 evidenced the right of unimpaired commerce and national piracy. Here were evolved the real basis of civil liberty, to determine that the nation should be wholly free, brought to a climax in the purchase of the liberty of the slaves. The speaker emphasized the deeper right, that of conscience. Herein lies largely the individual fight, he said. "Victims examples are witnessed in the unspeakable tortures borne by martyred Christians and the death of the Russian and French. The dead bodies and bloodshed of church marauders in the advance of this perfect liberty in which there is no infringement of conscience. But back of the right to think and to do as one's reason and conscience

from a sacrifice we do not yet understand,
that of Jesus Christ's crucifixion.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL.

The fourth week of the series of evangelistic meetings conducted by Rev. Dr. John L. Brandt of St. Louis at the First Christian Church was begun yesterday. In the course of the meetings there have been 111 accessions to the church. Eight were added yesterday. The afternoon Dr. Brandt spoke to an audience of men largely from the Y.M.C.A. and there were two conversions.
On Tuesday evening Dr. Brandt will close his series of meetings with a lecture on the Passion Play. There will be illustrations, part of them being moving pictures. On Wednesday evening there will be a sermon in song by Prof. Stout, the singing evangelist, who has been working with Dr. Brandt.

At the Churches Yesterday.

At the First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Ayer, the pastor, preached on the text, "Take ye away the stone which the builders have rejected, and we will build upon it: and it shall be called, 'The Cornerstone.'" The text was taken from the first chapter of the Epistle to the Ephesians.

At the First Methodist Church.

ing present that we are to behold the signs of that coming kingdom of God. Let me mention one or two.

The recent gift of Mrs. Russell Sage of $500,000 to the American Bible Society, with the understanding that this amount will be increased to one million, is only a faint indication of the tremendous efforts which are being put forth to implant in the hearts of humanity all over the world, those noble ideals which are found more perfectly in the Bible than anywhere else, and which will most surely bring forth an enormous harvest in human character in the years to come.

The demolition of the recently constructed Japanese war memorial erected by Mr. Hobson and a few others of his sort, occasioned by the signing of the treaty between Japan and America, is only an indication that the terrible calamity, insanity, and anarchy of the world, is slowly but surely disappearing from the earth, and a world fast becoming idealized.

The remarkable reforms which are taking place in the educational system, the determined effort to do away with the system of the child, the disappearance of the idleness of the people everywhere that this great nation is a part of the great world of progress, all proclaim the truth, the fact as recently stated in a remarkable address by the Chinese Minister, Dr. T. T. K. in an address before the Civic Forum of New York, that the so-called "Sick Man of the East," is fast becoming convalescent, that the "Sinking Lion" is now fully afloat, and that the "Trotting Empire" has ceased her wobbling, and is beginning to move with a power and a rapidity difficult to understand.

The recent utterances in the "Bible" address in the city of Baltimore, that the United States is on the verge of vast social changes, that the influence of wealth on political life is decreasing, that the religious and moral working man is to have more power, and the idler less, that true religion must both lead and restrain in the economic forces of the present and the future, and that the social philosopher and sociologist has at least a part to play in this great activity of the nation, indicate that these far-visioned and noble-minded leaders in one of the most important religious movements of all time, are desiring the graves of the past, and coming down out of the skies of religious speculation, and beginning to walk with life at first hand.

And finally the amazing results of prohibition in Georgia are speedily demonstrating several things, principally that prohibition is not a failure but a glorious success.

"The coming prophet who still croaketh that the world is getting worse and worse is becoming too ridiculous to make any further claims of sanity. The kingdom is surely coming."

"The Democracy of Christ."

At the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning, Rev. William Horner, D.D., preached on the "Democracy of Christ."

He said, in part:

"The Son of Mary was born into an ideal world. One power after another had been given the Empire, till he was supreme in all things. Caligula had become Augustus. As Caligula tells us, this inaugurated an era in which 'Rome groaned beneath an unrelenting tyranny which exterminated the ancient forms of the republic, and was fatal to almost every virtue.' And yet the nation was destined by the genius of the Augustan age, its laws, its literature, its prosperity, the change from the Rome of brick to that of marble seemed to indicate the birth of a new ideal. In such a world Jesus was born. He came saying He was anointed to preach the good tidings to the poor."

"When John the Baptist, sent, asking 'art thou He that should come?' He answered: 'The poor have the gospel preached to them. The validity of His claim was attested by the democracy of His spirit. He broke over lines of social caste and scandalous the great because He set at naught with publicans and sinners. He repudiated special privilege for the individual. He did not call rabbi, call it would be wiser for you to remain.' He responded in a low, determined voice, 'wiser for you to answer my question.' He had already answered them."

"I wish to know something further," he said, stirring again in his chair, and waving his hand, as if to the text, "I have nothing to conceal," was his reply attempting to smile. "Why should I?"

"Why, indeed," he said, "I may as well tell you that I have reasons—very strong reasons—for disclosing this mystery concerning Dr. Petrovitch. To me it involves a question of many thousands of lives. I have considerable interests out in Serbia, as your brother may have explained to you. I must find the doctor and the reason I have asked you here tonight is to invoke your aid in assisting me to do so. Can I be more explicit?"

He looked in his face, but a shrewd observer would have told by the wavering smile at the corner of his mouth that he was not speaking the exact truth. There was some ulterior motive underlying it all.

Though she did not detect this, she was still undecided. Anger was aroused within her by his commanding manner. His attitude had changed so suddenly that she had been taken thoroughly aback.

"I am afraid, Mr. Statham, that I cannot render you any assistance in discovering the whereabouts of the Petrovitch."

"But, dear young lady," he cried, "they had servants. Surely there is one who
